NEW YORK—Bob Trout, the polished emcee of “Who Said That,” is leaving NBC for CBS. The veteran newscaster is expected to team with Edward R. Murrow reporting the coming political conventions. The two have worked together in most of the past Democratic and Republican shindigs. ..

Sir Cedric Hardwicke has been signed for the lead role in a rehash of the old radio thriller “Fu Manchu.” .. British comedienne Florence Desmond’s two superb pinch hitting jobs for Caesar and Coca on the “Show of Shows” variety effort, were such successes, viewers are raving for more of the same. Her impersonations and smooth comic satires were the freshest stuff seen in a long time. .. The gigantic giveaway showcase “Queen for a Day” is due for a TV appearance.

Hollywood’s gossipy Hedda Hopper will afford her perennial rival Louella Parsons TV competition if both “Mrs. Exclusive” and Hedda go through with their proposed video series. Miss Hopper will do a remote filmed series of “inside” stuff on the glamour city. Show will be titled “Your Hollywood Hostess.” .. Eve Arden who will play the lead role when “Our Miss Brooks” goes TV, says horse racing is known as the sport of kings because when a man loses money at the track his wife crowns him. .. NBC is working on a shot in the arm for TV with the possibility of televising shows from various originating points, including army posts and some novel spots such as the intended site for a Martin & Lewis program—an alligator farm. .. Triple threat in the talent department, Donald O’Connor has been inked for an additional four shows on the “Colgate Comedy Hour” this season. .. “Cavalcade of America,” for years a successful radio show will take over a Saturday night spot for NBC-TV.

With “Sound Off” doing its last show December 30, Bob Hope is uncertain as to his TV plans. The gagster comic is in a hassle with his cigarette sponsor with whom he has an exclusive contract. Hope balked when he was offered to do a commercial pitch on the new “Dragnet” series. Abbott & Costello, incidentally will probably get the nod for the time vacated by “Sound Off.” .. Fred Allen, whose unmistakable wit has yet to be digested by the new medium, may find the formula that will make him a video hit. NBC has not given up on the baggy eyed comedian and will give him a quiz show twist similar to Groucho Marx’ “You Bet Your Life.” .. If Dave Garroway’s revolutionary morning show (called “Today”) due to debut January 14, proves to be a sound innovation, the program will be the largest gross earner in television. Arthur Godfrey and Kate Smith are the present leaders in the money department.

Insiders feel ventriloquist Jimmy Nelson who replaces Sid Stone on Uncle Miltie Berle’s Texaco show, is only a few years away from passing up the old master in that department, Edgar Bergen. .. “Leave It to the Girls,” the gabby femme forum that was consistently lampooned by critics, is finally being dropped. The show’s ratings paled in comparison to the cross network’s opposition, “What’s My Line.” The demise of the program hasn’t broken any hearts along the cable, except listeners feel sympathetic toward the charming panelist Robin Chandler who was misplaced among the other gals.
Letters to the Editor

All letters must be signed, with addresses. Names will be withheld if requested.

Why is there so much fuss about Kukla, Fran, and Ollie being cut off? The show doesn't make sense anyway. Some of the clothes (if you want to call them that) are disgraceful that the girls wear on TV.

SHARON DE MEYER

Why should Godfrey use the phrase "I don't like that LOUSY song," referring to "Muletrain"? In my opinion such thoughts should not be spoken to the TV viewers.

B. F. HAYWARD

I think those two funny people (Bob and Ray) who waste fifteen minutes of every week day should keep their jokes in the boundary of their own studio.

B. OERMAN

Who was the idiot who thought up the "Bob and Ray" show? That is the most sickening show I've ever had the unpleasant chance of seeing.

AUDREY TOLBERT

Chub McCarthy is the top commentator and often puts down opinions I would have written to you, only I could not find the nice words to replace the unprintable ones.

DOROTHEA M. ADAMS

I am intrigued with the current coffee commercials which invariably sound as though they are plugging china or dishware. When the commercial line says: "This is a GOOD CUP of coffee!", I wonder what the coffee is like. . . . If I were a sponsor, I'd like my product extolled rather than its container.

H. F. MEYER

Pat Vance makes the toilsome routine and squalor of my existence tolerable. She has a figure that would make Aphrodite look like a laundry bag in a thunderstorm!

IVAN BUNNY

Our television is dark all of Saturday and Sunday evenings as we are fed up with the "review of reviews," of night club entertaining, cavorting and jokes so silly even a youngster refuses to smile.

MR. AND MRS. I. M. CROOK

Since Dave Garroway and Kukla, Fran and Ollie incidents, we have gone back to radio.

THE CASE OF THE Missing Crooner

What Happened to Bill Lawrence?

When boyish crooner Bill Lawrence was discharged from the army after only four months' service, it immediately set off a reaction. Sly winks and knowing glances indicated that the fix was in. With Bill's money and popularity a "little" thing like an army discharge would be simple to maneuver.

A sad but true fact of show business life was learned by young Bill, with this turn of events. Celebrities are not allowed to let the normal incidents of life happen to them. Any minor occurrence is blown up into front page copy and the manners & morals of showfolk are looked upon with scorn by the so called normal people.

To top this off, Bill found that his old job with Arthur Godfrey was no longer available. Bill's discharge actually came about due to stomach disorders developed during basic training. Now living in New York city, his future depends upon getting another break.

The reason for his not returning to the Godfrey show is the subject of much discussion in the trade. Best guess is that some of Bill's boyishness has worn off and that Artha is not in the market for mannish baritones.

Several other youngsters' show careers have been interrupted by the long arm of Uncle Sam. Bearing up well so far are Vic Damone and Eddie Fisher. And then there is the lamentable case of Dick Contino.

The Contino story has been hashed over many times by the newspapers. The consequences of his draft dodging reach farther than just a short jail sentence. It is a black mark against his name. Whether his unavailability was due to swellheadedness or bad adjustment, it can only harm him. His fans seem devoted and his future will be determined only when he finishes his army hitch.

Eddie Fisher is causing much adverse comment with his frequent guest appearances on TV programs. People are asking why a man in the army is still able to haul down all those loose television bucks. Using pass time to do guest shots certainly doesn't indicate any lack of patriotism, yet cynical voices are heard bemoaning what to them seems like an act of treason.

Vic Damone, on the other hand, has (continued on page 36)
SHOW people rank right alongside ball players and astrologists when it comes to being superstitious. They're the greatest bunch of black cat terrorists, rabbit foot fanatics and number 13 "bugs" in the world.

Not the least of these slaves to Lady Luck is a willing and suitably scrappy guy named Richard "Red" Skelton who easily rates as television's top drawing card since the abdication of "king" Milton Berle.

Skelton, like his show biz cohorts, doesn't regard Lady Luck as some vague term for getting the breaks. For a believer, she's a fickle filly who will break off a courtship for the smallest reasons—like whistling in a dressing room before a performance.

Red became a superstition slave when he started out in show business. And when color TV becomes a commercial reality, millions of Skelton fans will get wise to one of his earliest little eccentricities—he always wears the same color tie.

It seems when Red made his first big hit he figured his bright maroon tie had something to do with it. Today he owns 200 ties—all of them a peculiar shade of—what else?—"superstition maroon."

As a vaudeville and circus performer Red used that old standby prop—a big fat cigar. Performers know a cigar is a naturally funny thing. Skelton doesn't need the stogie prop anymore, of course. But he uses as many as ten a day. They're merely off-stage laugh getters. He chews them to shreds, mutilates them, shoves them into some unsuspecting mouth and will on occasion absent-mindedly step into a shower with one jutting from his mouth.
But he never lights them. How come? "I can’t stand ’em. They make me sick."

Red suffers from a strange ailment unknown in the medical world—but freely tagged by his friends as being telephonobia. He won’t talk on the telephone. Claims it muddles him. "I used to get into the darndest trouble promising people things. Just couldn’t hear what they were saying so I used to say ‘yes’ all the time. Now I let my wife Georgia do all the talking."

But the rubber faced comic has trouble convincing his friends he’s not snubbing them by avoiding Bell’s brainchild. "If you don’t answer the phone, how do you get any business done?" they demand.

"That’s what Georgia’s for," is the reply.

"Well then, who the Sam Hill answered the phone before you met Georgia?"

"Before I met Georgia," says Red, "no one ever called me!"

Besides his kick for maroon cravats, Skelton’s dressing habits hark back to the days when he never had a pair of pants to match his only threadbare coat. Those two-toned combinations were clashing reminders for Red that the good old days were not so hot, after all.

Tacky clothes meant hard times for the redhead—and he’s superstitious about "roughing it" again. Today he wears suits all the time, everywhere—puttering in the garden, playing with the kids, taking walks in the summertime. "The only man alive who goes to the beach in a double breasted bathing suit," says Georgia.

A REMINDER
Because some sporting events and many feature films run overtime, the starting times listed for programs FOLLOWING them will be approximate.
What's My (Battle) Line?

THE hottest quiz show on TV today—by any standards—is "What's My Line," which features moderator John Daly and panelists Dorothy Kilgallen, Bennett Cerf, Arlene Francis and Hal Block. Sunday after Sunday, the CBS think-fast show racks up huge audience ratings.

But hotter than the perennial battle for audience ratings is the undercover struggle between headmaster John Daly and naughty pupil Hal Block, who has the uncanny knack of saying the wrong things at the right time, or vice versa. This little trick of "innocent" double-meanings has often threatened "What's My Line" with being censored completely off the air.

Executives connected with the program, of course, can’t say anything officially about such shenanigans, but it’s a well-known secret among TV insiders that Block is "permanently on probation, and any obvious slips into bad taste will flunk him out of school."

Sharp-eyed viewers have long noted that whenever Daly starts pulling his ear, it means that Block is skirting the "blue line." Usually Hal changes the subject fast, or else passes to the next panelist.

The program format doesn’t help much either. As caustic critic Chub McCarthy pointed out recently, "What's My Line?" is getting monotonously close to "What's My Lingerie?" Perhaps it isn’t entirely Hal Block’s fault. With a near-endless parade of panty makers, diaper salesmen and brassiere designers to guess about, plus the ever-present aroma from the sponsor’s scented "poofs," it may well be that Block is simply doing his duty as he sees it.

And so the battle rages. The citizens are taking a hand in it, too. Recently, the National Television Review Board listed "What's My Line?" as objectionable, mainly because of Block, but also because the Board members thought the program should climb out of the bedroom & bath category.

There’s no denying the program’s popularity with U. S. viewers. In the current Awards Poll race, "What's My Line?" is making a shambles of the opposition. But whether Block’s busters or Daly’s censorship wins out will be decided largely by the TV fans.

The viewers themselves must decide what they’re going to laugh at. Is it funny (ha ha) or funny (peculiar)?

"What’s My Line?" is seen every Sunday at 9:30 p.m. on WBKB (channel 4).
LETTERS to the editors

Why do they have to give high salaries to such people as Dorothy Kilgallen, Maggi McNellis, etc., etc., week after week when there are hundreds of public school teachers just as well informed who need the money?

Gary, Ind. A. GULBENKIAN

We would like to suggest bed spreads or blankets for the M.C.s of the Evans and William E. Lewis programs, as Christmas gifts. These items should have the sponsors name and address printed on them about a hundred times. Maybe then they will get as sick of looking at the names as we do of hearing them.

Matteson, Ill. MRS. A. ROSETTI

Why in the world would any company as well known as Texaco ever sponsor such a PILL as Berle? Our family thinks he’s simply awful.

Grays Lake, Ill. CAROL DEMEYER

... When you turn off a program like “Crusade in the Pacific,” it’s like crossing out the story of the fight for Independence in the history books. ... Truly this is one of the great shows on TV.

Chicago, Ill. ROGER PERLOCK

... Why does Groucho Marx feel he has to be so insulting to the contestants on his program? We enjoy his quips and humor most of the time, but can’t stand his insinuating and insulting remarks to some of the people appearing on his show.

Evaston, Ill. MRS. H. W. NELSON

Why did WENR-TV take off the “Family Hour” with Ted Mack? This war-torn world needs programs like this.

Crown Point, Ind. GEORGE E. SCHLEIMA

(Ed. note—the show’s rating didn’t match its budget.)

Kukla, Fran, and Ollie ... There are few programs on the air as completely enjoyable to the entire family—no dirt, no filth, no innuendo—no worry about what might be said next by any member of the cast—no low cut gowns.

Aurora, Ill. MRS. T. J. TODD

Can’t someone control the pen of that “McCarthy” character? It’s okay to pick on a putrid comedian or endless commercials but hardly fair to pick on Dr. Evans’ voice.

"SALUTE’S" DOORWAY TO STARDOM

When audition night rolls around for the young and old hopefuls on the TV Forecast Talent Salute, it’s an exciting experience that for some means the opening of the doorway to fame. The roving cameras, mikes, booms and control room are all part of the fascinating world that is television.

On hand to help choose the representative talent from the various neighborhoods in Chicagoland are Lou James, director of Rubin’s "Stars of Tomorrow" (Sundays, 9 p.m. WGN-TV) talent show and Bill Bent, the popular producer of the program. With their years of experience in the show world the winning talent is invariably a top choice.

Watch for news of the talent salute in your neighborhood paper. Your community may be next to be represented.

The suburb of Wheaton will be saluted January 20 instead of December 23 because of a special Christmas program that night.

Recent winner in Rubin’s "Stars of Tomorrow" Talent Salute is Tom Kmicieciak of the Cicero area. A "pops" vocalist, Tom shows promise as an emerging new swoon crooner in the entertainment field.

MR. WEAVER VS THE PEOPLE

by JACK MABLEY

Sylvester L. Weaver Jr., vice president of NBC in charge of television, seems to be a nice guy, and I hate to be constantly clobbering him in print. But one of the duties for which he is so well paid is to make speeches and sign his name to public letters. A by-product of this duty is to take the rap for his boners and those of his network.

One of the all-time highs in stupid public relations was reached by Mr. Weaver's NBC in the manner in which they sliced Kukla, Fran and Ollie. I don't think the time had come when it was necessary to cut KFO in order for the show to hold its audience. But even if you concede that the move was justified, NBC's working behind Burr Tillstrom's back and trying to undersell the show to network stations reaped an incalculable amount of ill-will for the network.

The whole business seems to be getting worse instead of better. There is a merry-go-round of letter writing going on between Mr. Weaver and the KFO fans. NBC received thousands of letters protesting the cut in KFO time.

NBC, in the interest of good will, has undertaken to answer all the writers with a form letter over Weaver's signature. The form letters have been pouring into Chicago by the thousands in the past two weeks, and all they have accomplished is to make the KFO fans even more furious.

Perhaps you can best understand the speciousness of Weaver's letter by reading one paragraph. Here it is:

"The change was not something which suddenly occurred to us, but rather was a development which had been discussed for some time. This was only natural because any show enterprise, and particularly one of genius such as is Kukla, Fran and Ollie, must keep the climate of the country and the entertainment world under scrutiny. When one is on top, one must be alert to those changes which will insure continuation as the tops. And one obvious consideration has been to give the public less of the thing they want so much, to sharpen their anticipation for the next night's appearance."

Well, there is one of the best ideas NBC has had in months. Why not give the public less of Milton Berle? Or apply it to Mr. Weaver's real pet, the Show of Shows, which has so much of Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca that they're repeating the repeats.

But no. This rule applies only to Kukla, Fran and Ollie. Why? Because it comes from Chicago? Because KFO provides more entertainment on a $10,000 budget than New York can buy with fifty thousand?

Cutting KFO's sponsors from under them to make way for Bob and Ray, an unsponsored 15 minutes of comedy, is another colossus of stupidity. Any sponsor would be crazy to buy Bob and Ray now. Millions of KFO fans would automatically hate their product.

Bob and Ray are a couple of good comedians, but putting them in the 6:15 time spot has been so unfair to them that they may never recover from the resentment of the public.

The basis of the whole miserable mess is that Mr. Weaver or some of his cronies made a monumental misjudgment of public sentiment toward Kukla, Fran and Ollie. This is caused by their failure to know the people—that is the people who live beyond a three mile radius from Toots Shor's. I don't think that Weaver even watches Kukla, Fran and Ollie.

One beer that's light... bright... right
Georgine Darcy and Betty Lorraine, two of the dancing Toastettes on Ed Sullivan’s Toast Of The Town show, present our readers with a neat and cheerful New Year toast.
DEAR BOSS:

I refuse to hold Bob & Ray's time slot against them. It wasn't Andrew Johnson's fault he followed Lincoln—or Harry Truman's that he is compared (or is the word I want: "contrasted") with FDR. Let's judge Bob & Ray not as "those jerks who cheated us out of a quarter hour with Kukla, Fran and Ollie," but as a couple of ORIGINAL and clever, low-pressure comics who do more with fifteen minutes and 15 bucks than Cantor, Allen or Wynn ever did with an hour and a hundred grand.

Speaking of comics and Allen, I watched Fred again the other night on his 30-minute Sound-Off show and was pleasantly surprised. His efforts were more natural, less frantic.

All of which made me wonder: "Why do all the comics have to be boff-artists like Jerry Lewis and Red Skelton?" Couldn't we find a place in TV for nice pleasant little light-comedy shows? Nothing colossal. Just a modest stream of chuckles and grins like when a gay-hearted friend tickles you in the ribs.

You know, I like that idea very much. Let's call these guys Vice-Comics. In honor of Alben who may not be president, but he's good for laughs during the after-dinner mint course.

I may take cracks at the taste of TV when I think it's poor. But I'll still defend TV's taste when it's stacked up against the other mass advertising media. Like magazines, for instance.

Both Life and Look recently carried an underwear ad with this headline: YOU DON'T NEED A HALO TO LOOK HEAVENLY, ANGEL. The half-page illustration featured three lovely models wearing nothing but bras from the waist up. Maybe it's just because it's the Christmas season, but aren't words like "Heavenly, Halo and Angel" sort of special? Couldn't we leave just a little shine on those words... just a little of the glory that once was their's... just till after Christmas, maybe?

Mike Boom says...

CHICAGO—What’s the matter with local sponsors? Can’t they see pure gold right underneath their noses? Maybe we sound mad, but we should be mad. And so should many readers who think that Ransom Sherman is the funniest man on TV.

They’re burying Ransom Jan. 11. But this isn’t a funeral notice, because they never gave Ransom a chance to come alive. Last year, NBC gave him a nighttime show format, and then shoved him off into the waste spaces of daytime TV. Even so, our readers voted his the best new show on TV. This year, WBKB gave him another daytime spot, and Borden’s signed up to pay the tab.

Now Borden’s is dropping out of the picture which leaves Ransom sponsorless. Look, fellows—it’s as simple as this—Ransom isn’t built for daytime TV, even though he gained his original fame in daytime radio.

Just try Ransom at night, with a decent budget. Throw his quiet humor among those screaming, howling variety shows—and watch his smoke. Let’s really give this talented guy a chance.

Elaine Neblett, the blond chirper who was seen on the kayoed “Let’s Have Fun” show, has departed for a U.S.O.

SHOW STOPPER (No. 7)

Lovely Connie Russell, one of Chicago’s major gifts to U.S. television, is an accomplished songstress who can also dance, clown and act on demand. Connie’s hair is now short since her “South Pacific” stint.

junket in England. She’ll boost military morale overseas. . . . There’s a possibility the famed Bal Noel dance Jan. 5 may be televised. With the ornate Drake Hotel as background, Notre Dame alumni in charge are mulling over the thought. It would be the first college party hereabouts to get the TV treatment.

Last call for small fry to get their big Super Circus yearbook. It’s loaded with pictures and stories of the cast—Mary Hartline, Nicky the Clown, Cliffy, Scampy, Claude Kirchner—plus many of the animals that perform on the show. Drop a line to Box 1514, Chicago 77, Ill. and enclose a dollar bill. . . .

George Menard and Frazier Thomas aren’t on speaking terms since the latter ousted George from his WBKB variety show.

And speaking of feuds, the Forecast staff is getting some hard looks since we’re publishing the results of the Worst Show category in the Awards Poll. Goodness sakes—we’re only counting the votes. The fans are speaking.

Post Mortem—In the wake of Joe Laurie Jr.’s mass invasion of local television stations several weeks ago, in order to plug his new book “Show Biz—Vaude to Video,” several items are in order. . . . Local Variety chief Don Wilson offered to shepherd Laurie about town. After three days of whirlwind activity, little Joe was a bundle of energy, while Wilson, 30 years younger, was almost on the ropes. . . . Co-author of “Show Biz” is Variety editor Abel Green. But Abel has an aversion to TV appearances, even to plug his book. So while Laurie skips about the country making guest appearances, Abel goes home and watches them from an easy chair. Which wasn’t too bad, until Abel complained that waiting for Laurie’s TV shows was keeping him from his sleep.

Nomination for the nation’s tallest TV floor manager: Gordon Kunz of WBKB. He’s 6’ 4” in bare feet.

Brickhouse, Allen, WGN-TV
In East-West Gridcast

Jack Brickhouse and Mel Allen have been named to handle the nation-wide telecast of the 27th annual East-West Shrine game from San Francisco, Sat., Dec. 29, at 3:30 p.m., on WGN-TV and the Dumont network. This assignment adds to the long list of top sports events that have been covered by Jack Brickhouse.

Jack is touted as video’s leading enunciator today. He was the recipient of the 1951 Sporting News award and is currently setting the pace for TV Forecast’s third annual popularity poll.

Some 51 cities across the nation will watch the event. The telecast is scheduled to start 20 minutes before the initial kick-off in order to bring watchers the full pre-game pageantry. The spectacle will feature 4,200 elaborately-uniformed participants, including 1,200 musicians, 1,000 color bearers carrying flags in mass formation and scores of individual units representing the armed forces.

Tuss McLaughry, veteran coach of Dartmouth, will head the Eastern All-Stars. He will be assisted by Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan and Bob Voigts of Northwestern. The head coach of the West will be Jess Neely, Rice Institute leader. His capable aids will be Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma and Red Sanders from UCLA.

Cuffnotes: With TV Forecast’s popularity poll entering its final week, Bob Elson’s fans have suddenly snapped out of their dormant state last week. Our Poll Editor reports a gradual, steady rise for Elson. With the ballot count four days behind schedule, Elson is pressing second place. Jack Brickhouse still maintains the lead.

Lee Salberg, WBKB hawk, announced CBS-TV plans to carry most Army and Navy home basketball games Saturday afternoons at 1:00 p.m. First game on the agenda pits Rutgers at Army or Maryland at Navy on Sat., Jan. 5th.

Mailbag: Blasting TV Forecast’s National Television Review Board, fans angrily ask why wrestling is listed as “objectionable?” The board’s reply: “Because of unsportsman-like conduct, unfair fighting, and phony acts!”

Personal to Mrs. Russ (Sylvia) Davis: How can we possibly pass the buck to our proof-readers for erroneously calling you “Gloria” in a recent column? Such a slip is doubly embarrassing since we all know your real name is “Sunshine!”
THE crowning touch of the NCAA-TV experiment comes Tuesday, Jan. 1, when NBC-TV brings the Rose Bowl to millions of video grid enthusiasts across the country. Starring in the historic sportscast will be unbeaten but once tied Illinois and once defeated Stanford, the Pacific Coast Conference champions. (For time on WNBQ please check program pages.)

It will be the sixth encounter between the Big Ten and PCC champions with the coast loop still seeking its first victory. The Illini rolled into the Big Ten throne by edging Northwestern 3-0 and the Indians iced their invitation by walloping Washington State. It will be Illinois' second trip to the Rose Bowl. UCLA is still nursing the 45-14 slaughter administered by the Illini in 1946.

Stanford on the other hand is making its ninth appearance. The Indians have won three, lost four and tied once. In their only encounter with a Big Ten team back in 1902, Stanford was thumped 49-0.

Stanford Coach Chuck Taylor placed heavy emphasis on his line during pre-game drills. His greatest problem is how to stop the romping of All-American Johnny Karras or the passing of quarterback Tom O’Connell.

O’Connell, a 5-11, 184 pound Illinois’ sophomore who transferred from Notre Dame, has completed 56 of 106 passes during 1951 for 825 yards and 6 touchdowns. Johnny Karras, the 23-year-old senior, led the Big Ten touchdown parade by hitting pay-dirt 12 times in the current season. In his three years with Illinois, Johnny has racked up 2,011 yards in 390 attempts for an average of 5.1 per try.

Illinois Coach Ray Eliot will also find his hands full with Stanford’s All-American end, Bill McColl. Bill has earned All-American honors on most major selections this season for his cat-like deception and running. Bill has traveled a sizzling 607 yards on carrying 42 passes for a total of 7 touchdowns.

As for the Rose Bowl spectacle itself, it had its “beginning” in the community playground of Pasadena in 1889. The football game is one of many events undertaken by the Tournament of Roses. Each year brought increasing crowds and Pasadena became pressed for accommodations.

The end result was the famous Rose Bowl stadium constructed in 1922 with a capacity of 52,400. In 1930, the “Bowl” was enlarged again until today some 100,000 jam the stadium every New Year’s Day.

Alice in Wonderland was the title of this novel flower-covered float entered in last year’s Tournament of Roses by the City of Glendale, California.
